Welcome...

Come to Eureka's Victorian seaport in the heart of California's Redwood Coast and enjoy our Grand Victorian home, originally built in 1887 for a Sea Captain by a master shipbuilder. Lovingly restored by a Navy family, keeping its Victorian Virtue but christened with nautical charm.

A lovely Garden in back fully compliments the restorative nature of the Inn. Just a few blocks to historic OldTown, shops and restaurants but in a quiet, residential neighborhood.

The Ship's Inn offers a peaceful retreat with breakfasts especially prepared to please.

Offering 3 distinctly different accommodations, all with private bath, TV-VCR, robes and down comfort.

The entire Inn is available for business meetings & retreats with phone, copier, fax, and high speed internet available. All 3 rooms downstairs are well suited for work – relaxation – and dining.

Our extended stay was incredible. Genie went out of her way daily making my family feel comfortable and helping us get established in our new hometown.

This has been my first B&B experience and it was great! The breakfast was fantastic and the beds were seriously comfortable. Close to downtown. There's also a great selection of old movies.

I love this place. It's my home away from home when I am traveling for work.

Had a wonderful time staying here. It was just before Christmas and everything was decorated wonderfully -- it felt so homey!

I thoroughly enjoyed my stay at Ship's Inn. I felt right at home immediately. The room was wonderful filled with little afternoon treats. The breakfasts were delicious. I would highly recommend it.

My husband and I were touring CA for our 50th Anniversary and included a delightful stay at the Ship's Inn. Genie made it all so special from the wonderful breakfast to the bedtime "treats", and all the personal touches she provided to make our stay wonderful!

The Ship's Inn is the only place we stay when we visit our old stomping grounds these days. Jenie's home is warm and welcoming; clean and bright; and the most fantastic breakfasts! We love staying here. The captain's room is absolutely phenomenal!
